Katherine,

You are not understanding this issue. It is not about a few campaigns that need to be removed – it is about widespread and rampant trademark infringement on your site that your company refuses to address. I have submitted numerous takedown requests, and the infringing campaigns keep appearing.

Please have a member of senior management or legal counsel contact me as soon as possible. We are preparing to file a lawsuit in federal court against TeeChip.

Dominique,

I am following up on our emails from late June. I never heard a response to our concerns about repeated instances of infringement of my client's trademarks on your site. You said on June 29 that you were going to forward my comments to the appropriate department. Is anyone going to contact me to discuss this very important matter?

Thank you.

Thomas replied:

Thank you. I did submit a takedown request on June 9, 2016.

However, due to your company's repeated failures to cure rampant acts of infringement on your site, I must insist that your company's president or counsel respond to my demand letter as soon as possible.
